

Save the date!

Although it might seem early, it's time to mark your calendar for the fourth annual National Psoriasis Foundation Capitol Hill Day!

On Feb. 25-26, 2007, psoriasis advocates from around the country will gather in Washington, D.C., to educate and influence members of Congress about issues that are important to the psoriasis community. Capitol Hill Day helps us build valuable relationships in Congress. We spread awareness about psoriasis and psoriatic arthritis and call for increased federal funding of research for treatments and a cure.
